There are many kinds of pets people keep, but dogs, cats, and hamsters are among the most popular.

A dog is often called 'man's best friend'. Dogs are very loyal and love to play. They need a lot of attention, including daily walks and playtime. People who have dogs often feel safer because a dog can bark to alert them to strangers. Dogs are great companions for active people.

A cat is a more independent pet. Cats like to sleep a lot, often in a sunny spot. They keep themselves very clean. While they are independent, they also enjoy cuddling with their owners. People who live in smaller apartments might prefer cats because they don't need to be taken for walks.

A hamster is a small and cute pet, perfect for a first-time pet owner. They live in cages and are easy to take care of. Hamsters are nocturnal, which means they are most active at night. They love running on their wheels and chewing on special toys to keep their teeth healthy.

Each pet offers a different kind of friendship. Some people prefer the energetic loyalty of a dog, others the calm companionship of a cat, and many enjoy the simple fun of watching a hamster play.
