The first thing to do when you have a trip abroad is to check that your passport is valid. Holders of out-of-date passports are not allowed to travel overseas. Then you can prepare for your trip. If you don't know the language, you can have all kinds of problems communicating with local people. Buying a pocket dictionary can make a difference. You'll be able to order food, buy things in shops and ask for directions. It's worth getting one. Also, there's nothing worse than arriving at your destination to find there are no hotels available. The obvious way to avoid this is to book in advance. This can save you money, too. Another frustrating thing that can happen is to go somewhere and not know about important sights. Get a guide book before you leave and make the most of your trip. It's a must.

Then, when you are ready to pack your clothes, make sure they are the right kind. It's no good packing sweaters and coats for a hot country or T-shirts and shorts for a cold one. Check the local climate before you leave.

In addition, think carefully about how much you pack in your bags. It's easy to take too many clothes and then not have enough space for souvenirs. But make sure you pack essentials. What about money? Well, it's a good idea to take some local currency with you but not too much. There are conveniently located cash machines (ATMs) in most big cities, and it's usually cheaper to use them than change your cash in banks. When you are at your destination, other travelers often have great information they are happy to share. It could enhance your traveling experience.

KET Listening part 1

Jamie:	Hi Amelia! How was your day?
Amelia:	Hi Jamie. It was fine, thanks, although my school bus was late. It usually leaves at seven forty-five but today it came at eight.

Jamie:	So what time did you get to school?
Amelia:	Half past – but my classes started at eight fifteen.
Jamie:	That's not good!
Amelia:	I know! And my timetable's changed. Last year, my first class was maths, but this morning it was physics, followed by biology. That'll be every week now.
Jamie:	Sounds interesting. Mine's quite simple, so at least I won't forget it. Not like last year! And we get free time for study now, so that'll make things easier than last year.
Amelia:	True
Jamie:	Anyway, it was a good day. I liked seeing my friends again.
Amelia:	Yeah. And I chatted to new students I didn't know – that was really cool! But I miss my old classroom.
Jamie:	Me too
Amelia:	Your football boots were in the kitchen this morning. Did you forget them?
Jamie:	I didn't need them. But I left my lunch in the fridge. I forgot to put it in my school bag, so I went to the café instead.
Amelia:	Oh no!

Audioscript

Man: Good morning. South Field Farm. How can I help?

Girl: I'm phoning about your job advertisement in this week's newspaper.

Man: Yes. We're looking for a student to be a farm worker during the holidays.

Girl: What are the hours?

Man: You'll start at six-thirty am and finish at two p.m. There's a break for lunch at twelve fifteen.

Girl: OK. Are you looking for anything special?

Man: You'll be working with soft fruit, so it's important that you're careful and strong – the boxes get heavy.

Girl: Is the money good?

Man: Our farm workers usually get three hundred and twenty-five pounds a week, but in this job you'll get three hundred pounds a week.

Girl: Why's that?

Man: Because lunch is included. But you do have to pay for your bus tickets.

Girl: OK. I'd like the job. What should I do now?

Man: You need to send me your details, including your address and phone number, before the tenth of May. The job starts on the twenty-fourth of May. I'll let you know next week if we need you.
