III. READING

Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C or D on your answer sheet to indicate the option that best fits each of the numbered blanks from 1 to 5.

GLOBAL WARMING

Few people now realize the reality of global warming and its effects on the world's climate. Many scientists put the blame for recent natural disasters on the increase in the world's temperatures and are convinced that, more than ever before, the Earth is at (1) _____ from the forces of the wind, rain and sun. According to them, global warming is making extreme weather events, such as hurricanes and droughts, even more severe and (2) _____ sea levels all around the world to rise.

Environmental groups are putting (3) _____ on governments to take action to reduce the amount of carbon dioxide which is given off by factories and power plants, thus attacking the problem at its source. They are in (4) _____ of more money being spent on research into solar, wind, and wave energy devices, which could then replace existing power (5) _____. It looks like global warming is here to stay.

Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D to indicate the correct answer to each of the questions below.

Viet Nam Likely to Face Extreme Weather Conditions by 2050

Viet Nam is likely to continue facing extreme weather conditions such as higher temperatures, lower summer rainfalls, stronger storms, and rising sea levels from now to 2050. Temperatures in northern Viet Nam will rise by between 0.83 degrees Celsius by 2050 and continue its uptrend during the late 21st century. Summer rainfall will decline in most areas. Meanwhile, storms may become rarer but fiercer, causing possible flash floods and landslides in flood-prone areas of northern mountainous, central and central highland provinces. The forecasts suggest sea level rises of 100mm - 400mm along the entire Vietnamese coast by the end of the 21st century, affecting marine biodiversity and coastal communities. The experts emphasize the unpredictability of climate change and its potential impacts to create a variety of dangerous extreme weather events in the future.

To raise the public awareness of climate change impacts, the Vietnamese government urges concerned agencies to work together on devising worst-case scenario models and responses by 2030 and calls on international experts to further support Viet Nam in climate change adaptation. Climate change is a real threat to Viet Nam's socio-economic development. If sea levels rose one meter, five percent of the country's land, eleven percent of its population and seven percent of its farmland would be affected.

Question 6. By 2050, Viet Nam continues facing all of these extreme weather conditions EXCEPT _____.

- A. higher temperatures
- B. storms reaching record levels
- C. lower summer rainfalls
- D. rising sea levels

Question 7. Sea level rises along the entire Vietnamese coast by the end of the 21st century will _____.

- A. cause certain flash floods and landslides in flood-prone areas
- B. make temperatures in northern Viet Nam rise until 2050
- C. make storms become rarer but fiercer in the near future
- D. have impacts on marine biodiversity and coastal communities

Question 8. To experts, they _____ to predict exactly the model of the climate change and its potential impacts.

- A. are unable
- B. are likely
- C. are certain
- D. are surprised

Question 9. Viet Nam needs _____.

- A. to recognize Viet Nam's socio-economic development in the future
- B. to calculate sea level rise, loss of farmland, and rise in population by 2030
- C. to raise people's awareness of climate change and to ask for foreign help
- D. to recognize the percentage of farmland which would be affected by its population

Question 10. The word "worst-case scenario models" in the last paragraph is closest in meaning to _____.

- A. the worst scenes that could occur
- B. the worst climate change impacts that will happen
- C. the worst possible things that could happen
- D. the worst unpredictability of climate change
