POSITIVE THINKING

Positive thinking is a mental and emotional attitude that focuses on the bright side of life and expects positive outcomes. Studies show that people who adopt a positive mindset enjoy many health benefits. These individuals tend to have lower stress levels, better mental health, and stronger immune systems. Positive thinkers are also more likely to engage in healthy behaviours, such as exercising regularly, eating nutritiously, and avoiding harmful habits like smoking or excessive drinking. Furthermore, positive thinking improves resilience, enabling individuals to cope better with life's challenges.

One example of the power of positive thinking can be seen in the workplace. Employees who maintain a positive attitude are often more productive, experience greater job satisfaction, and manage stress more effectively. This attitude not only helps them perform well but also makes them more pleasant to work with, which fosters a supportive work environment. While it can be difficult to remain positive all the time, practising gratitude, surrounding oneself with supportive people, and focusing on personal strengths can make it easier. In this way, positive thinking benefits both individuals and those around them.

31. What is the main topic of the passage?

- A. The benefits of positive thinking for physical health.
- B. The impact of positive thinking on various aspects of life.
- C. How positive thinking can improve workplace dynamics.

- A. Increased productivity. B. Stronger relationships.
C. Improved physical health. D. Greater job satisfaction.

34. Why might positive thinking improve productivity in the workplace?

- A. Because positive thinkers are less interested in job satisfaction.
B. Because positive thinkers are better at managing stress.
C. Because positive thinkers avoid teamwork.
D. Because positive thinkers avoid personal strengths.

35. Which of the following is suggested as a way to maintain a positive mindset?

- A. Focusing on past failures. B. Ignoring one's personal strengths.
C. Practising gratitude. D. Working alone.

36. What can be inferred about the relationship between positive thinking and workplace dynamics?

- A. Positive thinkers tend to face more stress in the workplace than others.

Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the questions from 31 to 36.

Reading is an essential skill that offers numerous cognitive benefits. It helps you gain more knowledge and improves critical thinking abilities. By engaging with written material, readers develop sharper focus and concentration. Moreover, studies have shown that reading can reduce stress by providing a relaxing escape and promoting mental clarity. For young minds, developing a habit of reading encourages a lasting passion for learning, sparking curiosity and a thirst for knowledge.

Reading also significantly strengthens language skills and communication abilities. Exposure to diverse vocabulary and writing styles enhances readers' ability to express themselves clearly and persuasively. Furthermore, reading can broaden views by introducing readers to different cultures, ideas, and experiences. Whether fiction or non-fiction, books offer unique insights and valuable learning opportunities.

With the growth of digital technology, accessing books has become easier. E-books and audiobooks, readily available through libraries and online platforms, allow people to seamlessly incorporate reading into their daily lives. While digital reading may offer advantages like improved comprehension and engagement for young readers, the benefits of physical books, such as reduced eye strain and a deeper connection to the text, remain significant.

31. What is the main purpose of this passage?

Artificial intelligence (AI) is reshaping the way we work. AI, like a smart computer brain, can solve problems and perform tasks faster and better. This technology is changing how jobs are done, bringing both opportunities and challenges for workers.

On the positive side, AI is revolutionising the job market. It can do repetitive tasks, such as packing boxes in factories tirelessly, allowing workers to focus on more creative and complex work. Additionally, AI is opening new job opportunities in fields like technology. For example, there is a growing need for people to design robots, program AI systems, and teach them how to perform tasks.

However, AI also has its downsides. Many workers worry about losing their jobs, especially in manufacturing and customer service. Some companies use AI to reduce costs, which can lead to job losses. This is a serious challenge, particularly for workers who lack the skills needed for new roles.

Therefore, it is important for people to learn new skills to work with AI. Governments and companies are investing in education and training to help workers adapt to these changes. By learning how to use this technology, workers can prepare for the future and benefit from the opportunities AI offers.

31. What is the main idea of the passage?

- A. How AI improves creativity in the workplace.
- B. The impact of AI on jobs and the need for adaptation.
- C. The ethical concerns related to AI development.
- D. The history of AI in different industries.

32. According to the passage, what is one way AI benefits industries?

- A. By replacing creative tasks with repetitive ones.
- B. By allowing robots to work without fatigue.
- C. By reducing productivity in certain sectors.
- D. By completely removing human roles in factories.

33. The word "creative" in paragraph 2 is closest in meaning to

- A. replaceable B. inventive C. effective D. profitable

34. What concern do some people have about AI?

- A. It might lead to job losses in certain fields.
- B. It forces workers to focus on creative tasks only.
- C. It decreases the overall efficiency of industries.
- D. It removes the need for new technologies.

35. According to the passage, why are governments and companies investing in education?

- A. To prepare workers for AI-driven changes.
- B. To eliminate traditional skills in the workforce.
- C. To reduce the dependence on computers.
- D. To focus on ethical issues regarding AI.

36. What does the author imply about the future of AI in the workplace?

- A. AI will completely replace human creativity.
- B. AI's influence will depend on worker adaptability.
- C. AI will primarily affect jobs requiring low skills.
- D. AI will make education and training unnecessary.

Climate change is one of the most pressing global challenges of our time. Rising temperatures, melting ice caps, and unpredictable weather patterns are evidence of its impact on the planet. These changes are largely driven by human activities, such as burning fossil fuels, deforestation, and industrial emissions.

One of the major consequences of climate change is rising sea levels, which threaten coastal communities and ecosystems. Additionally, extreme weather events, such as hurricanes and heatwaves, are becoming more frequent and intense, posing risks to human safety and infrastructure.

To tackle these challenges, efforts to fight climate change include reducing greenhouse gas emissions, using renewable energy, and adopting sustainable farming and industry practices. While governments play a key role in addressing this issue, individuals can also help by conserving energy, cutting down on waste, and making environmentally friendly choices.

The urgency to act on climate change has brought nations together to form agreements like the Paris Accord, which aims to limit global warming to below two degrees Celsius. However, to achieve this goal, all sectors of society must work together and stay committed over time.

31. What is the main topic of the passage?

- A. The impact of rising sea levels on coastal communities and ecosystems.
- B. The challenges of climate change and solutions to that issue.
- C. The importance of the Paris Accord in fighting climate change.
- D. The role of individuals in fighting climate change.

32. Which of the following is NOT mentioned in the passage as a cause of climate change?

- A. Burning fossil fuels.
- B. Industrial emissions.
- C. Deforestation.
- D. Livestock farming.

33. The phrase "posing risks to human safety and infrastructure" in paragraph 2 suggests that extreme weather events _____

- A. are beneficial for human and infrastructure
- B. endanger people's lives and property
- C. have no impact on human activities
- D. improve the drainage system

34. What does the passage say about the Paris Accord?

- A. It aims to eliminate greenhouse gas emissions.
- B. It focuses on transitioning to renewable energy sources.
- C. It seeks to limit global warming to below two degrees Celsius.
- D. It encourages individuals to adopt eco-friendly habits.

35. Which of these things does the passage suggest people do to fight climate change?

- A. Organising a community protest against deforestation.
- B. Donating to international climate change organisations.
- C. Choosing to walk or cycle instead of driving a car.
- D. Asking the government to take action to fight climate change.

36. Which statement best reflects the passage's conclusion about addressing climate change?

- A. Individual actions have little impact on climate change.
- B. Governments are entirely responsible for fighting climate change.
- C. Renewable energy is the only solution to climate change.
- D. Cooperation and long-term commitment are crucial to fighting climate change.

Sleep is essential for overall health and well-being, yet many people underestimate its importance. Adults typically require seven to nine hours of sleep per night, but busy schedules and unhealthy habits often result in chronic sleep deprivation. This lack of sleep can negatively affect physical and mental health, leading to issues, such as weakened immunity, poor concentration, and increased stress levels.

Beyond its impact on health, sleep plays a vital role in cognitive functioning. During sleep, the body repairs itself and strengthens memories, making it crucial for learning and problem-solving. Studies have shown that people who consistently get enough sleep perform better on tasks requiring attention and critical thinking.

Given its importance, improving sleep quality should be a priority. Experts recommend maintaining a consistent sleep schedule, avoiding caffeine before bedtime, and creating a comfortable sleep environment. For those struggling with insomnia, relaxation techniques such as meditation can be helpful.

Recognising the vital role of sleep and prioritising it as part of a healthy lifestyle can bring remarkable benefits. By ensuring proper rest, individuals can enhance their physical health, mental clarity, and overall quality of life. Developing good sleep habits is a simple yet effective step toward better well-being every day.

31. What is the passage mainly about?

- A. The impact of sleep on physical health. B. The benefits of sleep for overall well-being.
 C. The role of relaxation in treating insomnia. D. The relationship between sleep and diet.

32. Which of the following is NOT mentioned in the passage as an effect of chronic sleep deprivation?

- A. Poor concentration. C. Increased stress levels.
 B. Loss of appetite. D. Weakened immune system.

33. According to the passage, how does sleep benefit cognitive functions?

- A. By weakening immunity. C. By increasing energy levels.
 B. By eliminating stress entirely. D. By improving memories.

34. What does the passage suggest about improving sleep quality?

- A. People with insomnia should focus only on relaxation techniques.
 B. Consistency in sleeping and waking times is essential for good sleep.
 C. Creating a comfortable environment is more important than following a schedule.
 D. Avoiding caffeine entirely throughout the day is crucial to sleep better.

35. The phrase "prioritising it as part of a healthy lifestyle" in the last paragraph suggests that people should

- A. sleep more than 10 hours a night B. include sleep as an important part of their routine
 C. avoid sleep when they are busy D. focus only on physical health

36. What can be inferred about people who get enough sleep?

- A. They are less likely to experience weakened immunity.
 B. They can completely avoid stress in their daily lives.
 C. They rely more on caffeine to stay alert during the day.
 D. They no longer need relaxation techniques to manage stress.
