Part 4: Read the following passage and write A, B, C or D on your answer sheet to indicate the best answer to each of the following questions. (1.0 pt)

When we think of cities, we often imagine busy streets, tall buildings, and air pollution. But now, many cities are trying to be greener and cleaner. A green city uses smart ideas to help the environment and improve daily life. This means people benefit greatly from more green spaces, better public transport and cleaner energy.

Barcelona is a good example. Since 1859, it has worked on green designs. In 1992, before the Olympic Games, the city improved a lot. Now, many people use buses and trains, and there are many recycling bins around the city.

Portland, in the USA, is also a green city. Since 1903, it has made parks and long walking and bike paths. People can even choose clean energy like solar or wind for a small extra cost.

More cities around the world are becoming green. This trend is growing and helping the planet.

17. The passage is mainly about _____.

- A. cities with tall buildings and busy roads
B. how cities are trying to become greener
C. the best cities to visit on holiday

Part 5: Read the following passage and decide if the statements that follow are TRUE (T) or FALSE (F). (1.0 pt)

Việt Nam is home to some amazing islands, and three of the best are Côn Đảo, Phú Quốc, and Lý Sơn. Phú Quốc is probably the most popular island among the three. It's a lot more accessible with regular flights connecting to major cities in Việt Nam. It has many scenic attractions including beaches, smaller islands, and a national park.

Côn Đảo is the perfect island for people who want to relax. It isn't as exciting as Phú Quốc, but there is still plenty of things to do. Lý Sơn is much smaller and isn't as accessible because you can only reach it by boat from Quảng Ngãi. It doesn't have the typical long, sandy beaches, but the beaches here are far more scenic than in many other places. All these islands have something unique to offer. Therefore, whichever you choose, you can be sure to have an amazing experience.
