Part 2. Read the following passage and choose the best answer A, B, C or D to each of the following questions.

Two of the most dangerous storms which affect America are hurricanes and tornadoes. Every year homes are destroyed by their fury and often lives are lost. Most people who live near the coast are forced to evacuate their homes and to move to safer areas until the storm passes. The high winds, coastal flooding and heavy rains associated with a hurricane cause enormous damage. Hurricanes usually develop between July and October. Once they hit land they carry tremendous power with driving rain and wind.

Tornadoes are violent low-pressured storms. These storms occur most often during the summer months and are noticeable by their strong wind and lack of rain. Tornadoes are capable of lifting quite heavy objects from the ground. They can pick up trees and cars right, even uplift heavier objects such as homes and railway cars into the air.

Both hurricanes and tornadoes cause millions of dollars worth of damage to life and property every year. Today they can be predicted more easily than in the past, but they cannot be stopped or ignored.

Sample writing

I often go shopping at the open-air market near my house. However, there are some things I don't like about it. First, it is outdoor. On rainy or hot days, it is uncomfortable to shop. Secondly, the sellers usually ask for a higher price than the value of the goods and you have to bargain. It's not easy if you don't know the actual price of an item. Another disadvantage is hygiene. Fresh products like vegetables are often not very clean.
