The Academy Awards, commonly known as the Oscars, are awards presented by the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences to honor talented artists and creative products in the film industry. Winners are awarded a golden statuette called the Academy Award of Merit. The statuette features a knight holding a sword, standing on top of a reel of film with five spokes representing the five branches of the Academy: actors, writers, directors, producers, and technicians. The origins of the name 'Oscar' are not clear. A popular myth is that Margaret Herrick, the Academy librarian who later became the Academy executive secretary, said that the statuette reminded her of her Uncle Oscar, so the Academy staff then started referring to it as Oscar. The statuettes are made of solid bronze and are gold-plated. It takes around three months to produce 50 Oscar statuettes for the Awards Ceremony. All Oscar statuettes have blank base plates as the Academy wants to prevent the names of the Oscar winners from being leaked prior to the ceremony. Since the first Awards Ceremony in 1929, more than 3,000 statuettes have been presented.

Tapescript:

Spring School is an informal school. It provides classes to disadvantaged children in Ho Chi Minh City. Around 30 streets children live and study at the school and about 250 children with special difficulties from District 1 regularly attend classes.

The Organisation for Educational Development co-operated with Spring School to set up English classes in 1998. Dance, theatre, singing and folk music classes were set up a year later. Children from these classes participate in fund raising performances. They raise money to continue their English and performance Arts classes.

Spring School requires volunteers to help organize their fund raising dinner held annually in June. This is an exciting night in which children dance, sing and play music at one of the largest hotels in Ho Chi Minh City. They also need foreign volunteers to contact sponsors and help to expand the school activities. Volunteers are required from February until July to help organize these events.

It is hoped that more schools like Spring School will soon be found in other cities in Vietnam.
