TAPESCRIPT

Bài nghe 1:

All living things need water but water pollution has become a serious problem. Polluted water is unsafe for drinking and for other uses.

Water pollution happens when wastes and toxic substances make the water unsafe. There are two sources of water pollution: man-made and natural. Man-made substances pollute water when they flow into the water from factories and homes. Natural pollution occurs when rainwater with toxic chemicals flows into rivers or lakes. These rivers and lakes are a source of drinking water for humans. Water pollution has a harmful effect on our lives. But there are ways we can reduce water pollution. The first thing we can do is to treat water from factories and households. We should also stop littering, especially dumping waste into rivers and lakes. Finally, we can reduce water pollution by using green products and avoiding single-use products like plastic bags.

R

Lan, can you tell me about the Go Green?

Lan

Well, our club was founded in 2010 with ten members. Since then more people have joined the club and now we have about 200 members. We want to raise people's awareness about environmental issues.

R

So what do you do exactly?

Lan

Our regular activity is collecting rubbish at Hoan Kiem Lake every weekend. In addition, every three months, we organize a public campaign to attract attention from the community. This year, we organized the Walking for the Environment Day in March and a Green Fashion show in June.

R

So what are you going to do in September?

Lan

We plan to promote the Ecobag campaign in supermarkets such as Metro or Hapro.

R

Excuse me, but what is an Ecobag?

Lan

Well, an Ecobag is made from environmentally friendly materials, not a plastic one.

That's an effective way to protect the environment.

R

That sounds great.
