C. READING

PART 1. Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the following questions from 19 to 24. (1.2 points)

Tourism is a popular and important industry worldwide. It provides a significant contribution to economies, creating jobs and generating revenue, particularly in developing countries. Tourists travel for different reasons, such as relaxation, adventure, culture, and business. They visit natural or cultural attractions, enjoy local cuisines, and participate in various activities. However, tourism can also have negative impacts, including environmental damage, cultural homogenization, and the displacement of local residents. Moreover, the COVID-19 pandemic has posed unprecedented challenges to the industry, threatening the survival of many businesses and causing significant job losses. Despite these challenges, tourism is expected to recover once the pandemic is over, with new opportunities for innovation and sustainability. Therefore, it is crucial to ensure that tourism benefits not only tourists but also local communities and the environment.

(Source: The World Bank)

- A. It has caused serious challenges but tourism is expected to recover.
 B. It has completely stopped tourism worldwide.
 C. It has only affected developing countries.
 D. It has made tourism more profitable than before.

(H) Question 24: What can be inferred about the future of tourism after the pandemic?

- A. It will never fully recover.
- B. It will focus more on sustainability and innovation.
- C. It will become less important for developing countries.
- D. It will no longer provide jobs for people.

PART 2. Read the following passage about new ways to learn and mark the letter A, B, C, D on your answer sheet to indicate the best answer to each of the following questions from 25 to 29. (1.0 point)

Ecotourism is a unique way for travellers to engage in sustainable tourism while vacationing. This specific type of tourism is now increasingly becoming one of the more popular, with growth rates increasing every year. The United Nations, aware of the fact that tourism could be one of the most detrimental activities if not planned in accordance with the threshold imposed by nature, has declared the celebration of the International Day of Ecotourism, to promote sustainable practices in this growing industry.

Recently, The Division for Sustainable Development, Small Island Developing States Unit, decided that in preparation for the International Day of Ecotourism, it would be beneficial to identify successful practices of ecotourism on small islands. In order for ecotourism to be categorized as successful, it must meet the following criteria: it must combine natural and cultural tourism; it must involve local populations in the program, including providing educational resources to the local community, it must identify, manage and conserve the natural and cultural environment as well as the resources on the island; it must generate practices that will lead to the future sustainability of the island. If these criteria are followed by an "eco" organization, it deserves to be recognized as successful.

(B) Question 25. What is the main topic of the passage?

- A. The benefits of traditional tourism
- B. The celebration of tourism events
- C. The concept and criteria of ecotourism
- D. The impact of mass tourism on nature

(B) Question 26. According to the passage, what has the United Nations done to support ecotourism?

- A. Banned unsustainable tourism activities
- B. Declared an International Day of Ecotourism
- C. Built ecotourism resorts on small islands
- D. Provided financial aid for all eco-friendly projects

(B) Question 27. According to the passage, one of the requirements for successful ecotourism is that it must _____.

- A. involve only natural attractions
- B. ignore cultural elements
- C. engage the local population in the program
- D. focus solely on economic benefits

(H) Question 28. Why does the passage mention "threshold imposed by nature"?

- A. To explain why nature limits ecotourism
- B. To highlight the importance of planning sustainable tourism
- C. To show that tourism does not affect the environment
- D. To suggest that ecotourism should replace all other forms of tourism

(H) Question 29. What can be inferred about the role of education in ecotourism?

- A. It is not necessary for ecotourism development
- B. It helps raise awareness among local communities
- C. It only benefits tourists visiting the area
- D. It focuses mainly on promoting travel agencies

PART 3. Read the following passage about volunteer work and mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct option that best fits each of the numbered blanks from 30 to 33. (0.8 point)

Protecting the environment is essential for a sustainable future. One of the most effective ways to achieve this is by adopting (30) _____, which involve using natural resources responsibly to ensure that future generations can also meet their needs.

For example, reducing carbon (31) _____, can greatly benefit the environment. Additionally, conserving water through efficient fixtures and using biodegradable materials help reduce waste and pollution.

(32) _____, is another key aspect of environmental protection. This means preserving natural areas like forests, wetlands, and wildlife habitats. Conservation efforts also include preventing deforestation and protecting endangered species.

To make a real difference, individuals can take small but impactful actions in daily life. Simple habits, such as turning off lights when not in use, using public transportation, and (33) _____, can collectively contribute to a healthier planet.

By making sustainable choices, we can ensure a cleaner and greener future for everyone!

TRANSCRIPT

Nam: Hi, Mai. How's your mid-term project going?

Mai: Good! I'm trying to complete it by next Monday. But I'm still working on the last part: saving endangered animals. Do you have any ideas, Nam?

Nam: Well, I think the first thing you should do is help people understand the importance of this problem.

Mai: Yes, I agree. Some people think this is a natural process that would happen with or without humans. They also believe that's not their responsibility.

Nam: You should also do some research on the number of endangered animals. We are losing animals quicker now than ever before. And one of the reasons is illegal hunting.

Mai: Yes, hunting causes a lot of suffering to wild animals. It destroys their natural habitats, and leaves baby animals behind to die.

Nam: Well, I think strict laws can really help. Heavy punishment may prevent people from illegal hunting. Besides, wildlife trade should be banned as well.

Mai: That would stop illegal hunting. Any more ideas, Nam?

Nam: And we should make sure that the souvenirs we buy on holiday are not made from endangered animal parts.

Mai: That's true. Thanks, Nam! You've been so helpful.

THE END.
