Many pre-teens and teenagers enjoy spending their free time doing things like shopping, going to parties, being with friends, gaming and using social media, texting, watching movies, reading and going to the beach or park. Pre-teens and teenagers might also spend their free time doing structured extracurricular activities like arts and sports, community activities or volunteering, or casual work.

Spending some free time together is a great way to stay connected with your child. Doing something one-on-one with parents can be a treat for your child. You could go to a movie or concert, cook a meal together, go for a walk, look through family photos, or work together on a project like redecorating your child's room. It just depends on what interests you and your child have in common.

These activities might not happen spontaneously. You might need to discuss ideas with your child and plan to spend some time together. If spending free time with you is a new thing, your child might need some encouragement before they're keen. If this is an issue, you could plan short activities you know your child is likely to enjoy to start with. Besides, you could ask your child whether they'd like to invite a friend along. If you spend time together often enough, your child will probably start to feel more enthusiastic, so keep trying. You might need to try a range of activities before you find one you both like.

Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the questions.

You probably hear a lot about the environment. But do you really worry about it? Do you help to save the Earth? Cleaning a planet is not a task for only one person. People everywhere have to get involved and understand this is our world. If we pass the world on about the importance of reducing, reusing and recycling, the destiny of this planet can change.

Reducing the amount of waste you produce is the best way to help the environment. Did you switch off the water while brushing your teeth in the morning? You should do it! Did you walk to school or did you use public transportation?

Reusing is another way of being environmentally friendly. Try to find ways to use things again! Take cloth sacks when you go shopping instead of taking home newspapers or plastic bags. You should use cloth sacks again and again. You have to save some trees! Shoe boxes and margarine containers can be used to store things or become fun art projects. Use your imagination!

You can also recycle in your home or even at school. Many communities have recycling centers for newspapers, batteries and a variety of glass and plastics. These can be made into new products.

Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the questions.

There are many advantages and drawbacks of city life that you need to know before deciding whether to settle down there or not.

Cities are large and highly populated areas and therefore often seem like very crowded places. Because the population is more concentrated, there are often traffic jams, packed public transportation and streets swarming with people in a rush. Pollution is one of the major problems caused by high population density. Motor vehicle emissions contribute to low quality of air and are a major component of smog in some large cities. Another thing to have in mind if you want to reside in urban areas is the high prices of accommodations. For the price of an apartment in the city, one can buy a large property in the country, with lots of indoor and also outdoor space.

At the same time, there are many advantages of living in the city. Everything you may need is close by starting with hospitals, banks, educational institutions, shops, etc. Cities also have a developed infrastructure like electricity, telecommunication, water and transportation facilities. While in the city you can get anywhere by public transportation or a taxi relatively quickly, to get anywhere in the countryside you have to have a vehicle and drive. If you are unemployed and are looking for a job, the city provides a lot more employment opportunities. High-paying jobs in finance, medicine, law, retail or advertising tend to be found in the cities. One can also work remotely, but that means fewer career options.

Consider carefully to have your own choice!

A good deal of fascinating research has been done into reading patterns of young people, and it is surprising to discover at what an early age children start expressing preferences for particular kinds of book. A recent report which examined in detail the reading habit of primary school children, showed that even seven-year-old boys and girls have clear views about what they want to read. Girls, in general, read more and far more girls than boys preferred reading stories. Boys were showing a taste for the more instant appeal of picture stories, or else books about their hobbies. These tastes continue unchanged until the children are teenagers. Apparently, girls read more in general, but more fiction in particular. You could say that there are more opportunities for girls to read fiction: magazines encourage the fiction habit in girls in their early teens, and by their late teens they have probably moved on to the adult women's magazines. Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the questions.

One of the most urgent environmental problems in the world today is the shortage of clean water. Having clean drinking water is a basic human right. However, acid rain, industrial pollution and garbage have made many sources of water undrinkable. Lakes, reservoirs and even entire seas have become vast pools of poison. Lake Baikal in Russia is one of the largest lakes in the world. It contains a rich variety of animals and plants, including 1,300 rare species that do not exist anywhere else in the world. Yet, they are being destroyed by the massive volumes of industrial effluent which pour into the lake every day. Even though laws have been made, the government does not have the power to enforce them. Most industries simply ignore the regulations. The Mediterranean Sea occupies 1% of the world's water surface, but it is the dumping ground for 50% of all marine pollution. Almost 16 countries regularly throw industrial wastes a few miles off shore.

Water is free to everyone. A few years ago, people thought that the supply of clean water in the world was limitless. Today, many water supplies have been ruined by pollution and sewage. Clean water is now scarce, and we are at last beginning to respect this precious source. We should do something now.

The most fascinating change in societies in developing countries is undoubtedly the significant rise in women's participation in work and education. In these nations, an increasing number of women are attending college, earning advanced degrees, and finding employment. They are no longer content to be housewives who only stay at home. The socioeconomic situation in these countries will be significantly impacted by this abrupt change.

The financial burden placed on the male 'breadwinners' in the family will decrease as more women enter the workforce. However, they will also learn to share household duties and stop acting as the household's dominant figures and decision-makers. Children will undoubtedly benefit from this change. Their fathers will show them more love and attention. Because both parents will be working, they will also become more independent.

As a result, the service industry will face challenges first. There will be an increase in demand for after-school programs, tutoring, convenience foods, and housekeeping services. People who are more educated and have more money to spend will demand better products and higher living standards. Consequently, this will aid in the economic growth of the nations.

31. What can be the title of the passage?

- A. The Changing Role of Women in Developing Countries
- B. The Impact of Women's Work on the Family
- C. Women's Education and Economic Growth
- D. The Future of Women in Developed Countries

Clothing is more than just a practical necessity; it's a form of self-expression and cultural identity. From the vibrant saris of India to the sleek business suits of Western countries, clothing carries stories and traditions.

In my own life, I've found that what I wear can reflect my mood and personality. On confident days, I might choose bold colors and statement pieces, while on quieter days, I opt for cozy sweaters and muted tones. Each garment holds memories too - the concert tee that reminds me of an unforgettable night, or the worn-out sneakers that have traveled the world with me. Beyond personal expression, clothing plays a crucial role in society. It can signify occupation, like a doctor's white coat or a chef's apron. It can also convey social norms and expectations, such as the formal attire worn to weddings or the uniforms students don at school. Moreover, clothing trends evolve with time, reflecting changes in culture, technology, and values.

However, the fashion industry's environmental impact has raised concerns. The fast-paced cycle of trends contributes to waste and pollution. As a response, sustainable fashion movements are gaining momentum, encouraging mindful consumption and eco-friendly production.

31. The passage mainly discusses _____.

- A. Clothing: More Than Just a Practical Necessity
- B. The environmental impact of the fashion industry
- C. Different types of traditional clothing from around the world
- D. The evolution of clothing trends over time

- A. Choosing bold colors and statement pieces.
- B. Wearing clothing that is comfortable and practical.
- C. Opting for cozy sweaters and muted tones.
- D. Choosing clothing that reminds you of special memories.

33. According to the text, movements for sustainable fashion are _____.

- A. dwindling
- B. disappearing
- C. picking up steam
- D. unchanged

34. What does the word "worn-out" used in the second paragraph mean?

- A. dirty and need to be washed.
- B. comfortable, well-worn or in good condition.
- C. too small and needs to be replaced.
- D. shabby, no longer new or in good condition.

35. All the following sentences are the purposes of clothing except _____.

- A. To protect the body from the elements.
- B. To express personal style and identity.

The Eiffel Tower

The Eiffel Tower is one of the world's most famous sights. The 324-metre-tall iron tower attracts millions of tourists to Paris every year. It has been an iconic part of Paris' skyline for 133 years. However, it is showing its age. Engineers recently conducted a survey of the monument. They found that its metal is full of rust. They said it is “in a poor state”. They added that if its designer Gustave Eiffel was alive today and saw his creation, “he would have a heart attack”. Engineers say there are many cracks in the iron. The tower needs many repairs. A 2016 report on the tower stated there were 698 faults on the tower. These were serious enough to put the tower's long-term future in doubt.

Construction of the Eiffel Tower started in January 1887. It opened to the public on the 31st of Marches? It was built to celebrate the 1889 World's Fair in Paris. Builders needed 10,100 tons of iron to make the tower. It was made from 18,000 sections and 2.5 million rivets. The original plan was for the tower to be taken down after 20 years. However, the French government changed Its mind and kept it in place. The tower is currently being repainted ahead of the 2024 Olympics. Engineers say painting the metal will not make the rust problem go away. They say the existing paint needs to be completely removed first. However, this will take too long and the tower would lose tourist revenue.

In Britain people celebrate Harvest Festival by singing, praying, and decorating churches with baskets of fruit and food, usually during the month of September. Harvest Festival reminds Christians of all the good things God gives them. This makes them want to share with others who are not so fortunate. In schools and in churches, people bring food from home to a Harvest Festival Service. After the service, the food that has been put on display is usually made into parcels and given to people in need.

In early times, Harvest Festival used to be celebrated at the beginning of the harvest season on 1 August and was called Lammas, meaning "loaf Mass". Farmers made loaves of bread from the new wheat crop and gave them to their local church. They were used as the Communion bread during a special mass thanking God for the harvest. The end of the harvest was celebrated with a big meal called a Harvest Supper. The "Lord of the Harvest" sat at the head of the table. A goose stuffed with apples was eaten along with a variety of vegetables. Goose Fairs were and still are held in English towns today.

Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the questions.

Sleep is very important. Did you know that sleep is more important than food? A person who does not sleep dies at a younger age than a person who does not eat. Let's say you go to sleep 12 hours later than you usually do. It will take your body about three weeks to return to normal. We spend about one-third (1/3) of our lives in sleep. That's about 121 days a year!

How much sleep do we need? We are all different. A baby needs 16 hours of sleep every day. Children 6 to 12 years old need an average of 10 to 12 hours of sleep. A teenager needs 9 to 10 hours of sleep. An adult needs an average of 7 to 8 hours a night. There are some people who need only 3 hours of sleep. Others need 10 hours of sleep. After the age of 50, the average sleep time goes down to 6.5 hours a night. We need less sleep as we get older. Most people have some nights when they cannot sleep. About one in three Americans has a problem with sleep. Many of these people cannot fall asleep or stay asleep. The name of this problem is insomnia. The word insomnia means “no sleep.” Some people say, “I didn’t sleep all night.” They may sleep lightly and wake up several times. In the morning, they only remember the times they were awake, so they think they were awake all night. This is not a new problem. Many famous people in history had insomnia. Some of these people had special ideas to make them sleep. Benjamin Franklin, the famous statesman and inventor, had four beds. He moved from one to the other to fall asleep. King Louis XIV of France had 413 beds and hoped to fall asleep in one of them. Mark Twain, the famous American writer, had a different way. He lay on his side across the end of the bed!

Traveling in the Future

These days, if you want to travel from New York to Beijing, the flight takes about 16 hours. You also have to wait at the airport, and sometimes you have to transfer onto a different airplane. If you add all of that extra time, the trip takes at least 20 hours. But in the future, the trip from New York to Beijing might only take two hours.

Right now, a private company is developing something called ET3. ET3 stands for “evacuated tube transport technology”. Here is how it works. A tube goes all the way from New York to Beijing. The tube is only a few meters wide. Capsules move through the tube. Six people can sit in one capsule. The capsules use electricity instead of gasoline. For international travel, the capsules can travel at about 6,500 kilometers per hour. That is much faster than airplane — most modern airplanes usually only fly at about 800 kilometers per hour.

So how is this possible? How can these capsules travel so fast? The answer is that there is no air inside the tube. When airplanes fly, they have to move through the air. The air slows the airplanes down. Because there is no air in the ET3 tubes, the capsules are able to move at a very high speed. Besides, the capsules are quite light. They only weigh 183 kilograms.

There are other advantages to ET3. Because it uses electricity, it is quite clean. In addition, it is much quieter than airplanes and cars. Finally, ET3 tubes and capsules don't require very much building material.

Of course, ET3 doesn't exist yet. The technology is still being developed. Developers still have to solve a lot of problems. The biggest problem is that right now, ET3 would be far too expensive. In order to make ET3 cheaper, we will need much better technology.

It is exciting to think of how ET3 will change travel in the future. Maybe someday, you will be able to have lunch in New York and dinner in Beijing.

31. Which of the following is NOT true about travelling at present?

- A. Modern planes fly at about 800 kilometers per hour.
 B. We use mostly gasoline for transportation.
 C. Flights make little noise thanks to modern technology.
 D. Traveling takes place in the air.

32. Why is ET3 clean?

- A. It is made of a clean kind of material.
 B. It uses a cleaner kind of gasoline.
 C. It doesn't use gasoline or electricity.
 D. It uses electricity.

33. The word “works” in paragraph 2 is closest in meaning to _____.

- A. travels      B. operates      C. earns money      D. succeeds

34. All of the following are factors that make ET3 travel fast EXCEPT that _____.

- A. there is no air inside the tube
 B. the capsule is quite light
 C. building material was discovered by accident

D. there is nearly no friction during the trip

35. What can be inferred from the passage?

A. There is still a lot to do before putting ET3 into operation.

B. All flights have to transfer at different cities.

C. ET3 will be used domestically.

D. Electricity used as a source of energy makes a capsule much quieter.

Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the questions.

Our local environment is the world right around us - the air we breathe, the water we drink, the parks we play in, and the streets we walk on. Taking care of it is essential for our well-being and the health of the planet.

One simple way to help is by keeping our neighborhoods clean. We can do this by not throwing trash on the ground and using trash cans. Picking up litter when we see it is a small act that makes a big difference. Cleaner streets also mean cleaner air because there's less dust and pollution.

We can also save energy to help our local environment. Turning off lights when we leave a room and using less water when we take showers or brush our teeth can lower our energy use. When we use less energy, we reduce the pollution that harms our air and environment.

Our local parks and green spaces are essential for our well-being. We should enjoy these places and take care of them. Picking up after ourselves, not damaging plants, and not leaving trash behind are simple ways to keep these areas beautiful.

Preserving local wildlife is another part of taking care of our environment. We can do this by not disturbing animals' homes and being kind to the creatures we share our space with.

Lastly, getting involved in community projects like clean-up events or tree planting can bring people together to make our local environment even better. When we work together, we create a stronger, healthier, and happier place to call home.

31. What should be the main title of the passage?

- A. Conserving Our Natural Resources
- B. Taking Action for a Healthier Local Environment
- C. Global Efforts for Environmental Sustainability
- D. Exploring Ways to Reduce Pollution

32. The word "it" in paragraph 1 refers to _____.

- A. the water
- B. the streets
- C. the world
- D. local environment

33. How can saving energy contribute to a healthier local environment?

- A. By reducing noise pollution
- B. By reducing people's habit of littering
- C. By lowering pollution and environmental harm
- D. By making streets cleaner

34. Which of the following can NOT be inferred about how to help the local environment.

- A. We can help the local environment by saving energy.
- B. We can help the local environment by exploiting local parks and green spaces.

Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the questions.

Along with jogging and swimming, cycling is one of the best all-round forms of exercise. It can help to increase your strength and energy, giving you more efficient muscles and a stronger heart. But increasing your strength is not the only advantage of cycling. Because you're not carrying the weight of your body on your feet, it's a good form of exercise for people with painful feet or backs. However, with all forms of exercise it's important to start slowly and build up gently. Doing too much too quickly can damage muscles that aren't used to working. If you have any doubts about taking up cycling for health reasons, talk to your doctor and ask for his/her advice.

Ideally you should be cycling at least two or three times a week. For the exercise to be doing you good, you should get a little out of breath. Don't worry that if you begin to lose your breath, it could be dangerous and there must be something wrong with your heart. This is simply not true; shortness of breath shows that the exercise is having the right effect. However, if you find you are in pain then you should stop and take a rest.

36. What is the passage mainly about?

- A. Doing exercises is good for health
- B. Cycling is one of the best forms of exercise
- C. How to go jogging and swimming
- D. Three forms of exercise: jogging, swimming and cycling

Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the questions.

Many pre-teens and teenagers enjoy spending their free time doing things like shopping, going to parties, being with friends, gaming and using social media, texting, watching movies, reading and going to the beach or park. Pre-teens and teenagers might also spend their free time doing structured extracurricular activities like arts and sports, community activities or volunteering, or casual work.

Spending some free time together is a great way to stay connected with your child. Doing something one-on-one with parents can be a treat for your child. You could go to a movie or concert, cook a meal together, go for a walk, look through family photos, or work together on a project like redecorating your child's room. It just depends on what interests you and your child have in common.

These activities might not happen spontaneously. You might need to discuss ideas with your child and plan to spend some time together. If spending free time with you is a new thing, your child might need some encouragement before they're keen. If this is an issue, you could plan short activities you know your child is likely to enjoy to start with. Besides, you could ask your child whether they'd like to invite a friend along. If you spend time together often enough, your child will probably start to feel more enthusiastic, so keep trying. You might need to try a range of activities before you find one you both like.

Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the questions.

You probably hear a lot about the environment. But do you really worry about it? Do you help to save the Earth? Cleaning a planet is not a task for only one person. People everywhere have to get involved and understand this is our world. If we pass the world on about the importance of reducing, reusing and recycling, the destiny of this planet can change.

Reducing the amount of waste you produce is the best way to help the environment. Did you switch off the water while brushing your teeth in the morning? You should do it! Did you walk to school or did you use public transportation?

Reusing is another way of being environmentally friendly. Try to find ways to use things again! Take cloth sacks when you go shopping instead of taking home newspapers or plastic bags. You should use cloth sacks again and again. You have to save some trees! Shoe boxes and margarine containers can be used to store things or become fun art projects. Use your imagination!

You can also recycle in your home or even at school. Many communities have recycling centers for newspapers, batteries and a variety of glass and plastics. These can be made into new products.

Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the questions.

There are many advantages and drawbacks of city life that you need to know before deciding whether to settle down there or not.

Cities are large and highly populated areas and therefore often seem like very crowded places. Because the population is more concentrated, there are often traffic jams, packed public transportation and streets swarming with people in a rush. Pollution is one of the major problems caused by high population density. Motor vehicle emissions contribute to low quality of air and are a major component of smog in some large cities. Another thing to have in mind if you want to reside in urban areas is the high prices of accommodations. For the price of an apartment in the city, one can buy a large property in the country, with lots of indoor and also outdoor space.

At the same time, there are many advantages of living in the city. Everything you may need is close by starting with hospitals, banks, educational institutions, shops, etc. Cities also have a developed infrastructure like electricity, telecommunication, water and transportation facilities. While in the city you can get anywhere by public transportation or a taxi relatively quickly, to get anywhere in the countryside you have to have a vehicle and drive. If you are unemployed and are looking for a job, the city provides a lot more employment opportunities. High-paying jobs in finance, medicine, law, retail or advertising tend to be found in the cities. One can also work remotely, but that means fewer career options.

Consider carefully to have your own choice!

Vietnam, a country steeped in history and culture, has undergone remarkable transformations over the years. Once scarred by war, the nation now stands as a thriving example of resilience and development. In the past, Vietnam was torn by conflict, particularly during the Vietnam War. The war left a lasting impact on the country, affecting its economy and infrastructure. However, Vietnam's post-war period marked a turning point. The government embraced economic reforms, transitioning from a centrally planned economy to a market-oriented one. This shift led to rapid economic growth, attracting foreign investment and boosting international trade.

Today, Vietnam's landscape is a blend of ancient traditions and modern advancements. Bustling cities like Ho Chi Minh City and Hanoi boast skyscrapers, vibrant markets, and buzzing nightlife. The countryside remains picturesque, with terraced rice fields and traditional villages showcasing the nation's agricultural roots. Tourism plays a significant role in Vietnam's contemporary identity. The country's rich heritage, including its UNESCO World Heritage Sites, draws millions of visitors annually. From the stunning limestone karsts of Ha Long Bay to the ancient town of Hoi An, Vietnam offers a diverse range of experiences. And that the government is also trying to keep these proud heritages while developing the economy.

If you enjoy water sports, Hawaii is the place for you. You can go swimming all year round in the warm water. You can also try some other water sports that are especially popular in Hawaii surfing snorkeling and scuba diving.

Surfing is a sport which started in Hawaii many years ago. In the native Hawaiian language, it means "to slick on a wave". If you want to try surfing, you need to be a good swimmer with excellent sense of balance.

Scuba diving and snorkeling are 2 ways to get close look at the beauty lying below the surface on the ocean. The waters of the Hawaiian Islands are clean, clear and warm. They contain hundreds of kinds of colorful fish. Scuba diving allows you to see the most interesting undersea sights.

Scuba means equipment for breathing and swimming tor under water. If you are adventurous, you might try snorkeling instead of scuba diving. Less equipment is needed, just a face mask, a breathing tube (snorkel) and flippers for your feet. It only takes 3 few minutes to learn how to snorkel.

One of the most urgent environmental problems in the world today is the shortage of clean water. Having clean drinking water is a basic human right. However, acid rain, industrial pollution and garbage have made many sources of water undrinkable. Lakes, reservoirs and even entire seas have become vast pools of poison. Lake Baikal in Russia is one of the largest lakes in the world. It contains a rich variety of animals and plants, including 1,300 rare species that do not exist anywhere else in the world. Yet, they are being destroyed by the massive volumes of industrial effluent which pour into the lake every day. Even though laws have been made, the government does not have the power to enforce them. Most industries simply ignore the regulations. The Mediterranean Sea occupies 1% of the world's water surface, but it is the dumping ground for 50% of all marine pollution. Almost 16 countries regularly throw industrial wastes a few miles off shore.

Water is free to everyone. A few years ago, people thought that the supply of clean water in the world was limitless. Today, many water supplies have been ruined by pollution and sewage. Clean water is now scarce, and we are at last beginning to respect this precious source. We should do something now.

31. According to the writer, one environmental problem in the world today is _____.

The most fascinating change in societies in developing countries is undoubtedly the significant rise in women's participation in work and education. In these nations, an increasing number of women are attending college, earning advanced degrees, and finding employment. They are no longer content to be housewives who only stay at home. The socioeconomic situation in these countries will be significantly impacted by this abrupt change.

The financial burden placed on the male 'breadwinners' in the family will decrease as more women enter the workforce. However, they will also learn to share household duties and stop acting as the household's dominant figures and decision-makers. Children will undoubtedly benefit from this change. Their fathers will show them more love and attention. Because both parents will be working, they will also become more independent.

As a result, the service industry will face challenges first. There will be an increase in demand for after-school programs, tutoring, convenience foods, and housekeeping services. People who are more educated and have more money to spend will demand better products and higher living standards. Consequently, this will aid in the economic growth of the nations.

31. What can be the title of the passage?

A. The Changing Role of Women in Developing Countries

B. The Impact of Women's Work on the Family

C. Women's Education and Economic Growth

Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the questions.

Clothing is more than just a practical necessity; it's a form of self-expression and cultural identity. From the vibrant saris of India to the sleek business suits of Western countries, clothing carries stories and traditions.

In my own life, I've found that what I wear can reflect my mood and personality. On confident days, I might choose bold colors and statement pieces, while on quieter days, I opt for cozy sweaters and muted tones. Each garment holds memories too - the concert tee that reminds me of an unforgettable night, or the worn-out sneakers that have traveled the world with me. Beyond personal expression, clothing plays a crucial role in society. It can signify occupation, like a doctor's white coat or a chef's apron. It can also convey social norms and expectations, such as the formal attire worn to weddings or the uniforms students don at school. Moreover, clothing trends evolve with time, reflecting changes in culture, technology, and values.

However, the fashion industry's environmental impact has raised concerns. The fast-paced cycle of trends contributes to waste and pollution. As a response, sustainable fashion movements are gaining momentum, encouraging mindful consumption and eco-friendly production.

The Eiffel Tower

The Eiffel Tower is one of the world's most famous sights. The 324-metre-tall iron tower attracts millions of tourists to Paris every year. It has been an iconic part of Paris' skyline for 133 years. However, it is showing its age. Engineers recently conducted a survey of the monument. They found that its metal is full of rust. They said it is "in a poor state". They added that if its designer Gustave Eiffel was alive today and saw his creation, "he would have a heart attack". Engineers say there are many cracks in the iron. The tower needs many repairs. A 2016 report on the tower stated there were 698 faults on the tower. These were serious enough to put the tower's long-term future in doubt.

Construction of the Eiffel Tower started in January 1887. It opened to the public on the 31st of Marches? It was built to celebrate the 1889 World's Fair in Paris. Builders needed 10,100 tons of iron to make the tower. It was made from 18,000 sections and 2.5 million rivets. The original plan was for the tower to be taken down after 20 years. However, the French government changed Its mind and kept it in place. The tower is currently being repainted ahead of the 2024 Olympics. Engineers say painting the metal will not make the rust problem go away. They say the existing paint needs to be completely removed first. However, this will take too long and the tower would lose tourist revenue.

In Britain people celebrate Harvest Festival by singing, praying, and decorating churches with baskets of fruit and food, usually during the month of September. Harvest Festival reminds Christians of all the good things God gives them. This makes them want to share with others who are not so fortunate. In schools and in churches, people bring food from home to a Harvest Festival Service. After the service, the food that has been put on display is usually made into parcels and given to people in need.

In early times, Harvest Festival used to be celebrated at the beginning of the harvest season on 1 August and was called Lammas, meaning "loaf Mass". Farmers made loaves of bread from the new wheat crop and gave them to their local church. They were used as the Communion bread during a special mass thanking God for the harvest. The end of the harvest was celebrated with a big meal called a Harvest Supper. The "Lord of the Harvest" sat at the head of the table. A goose stuffed with apples was eaten along with a variety of vegetables. Goose Fairs were and still are held in English towns today.

Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the questions.

Sleep is very important. Did you know that sleep is more important than food? A person who does not sleep dies at a younger age than a person who does not eat. Let's say you go to sleep 12 hours later than you usually do. It will take your body about three weeks to return to normal. We spend about one-third (1/3) of our lives in sleep. That's about 121 days a year!

How much sleep do we need? We are all different. A baby needs 16 hours of sleep every day. Children 6 to 12 years old need an average of 10 to 12 hours of sleep. A teenager needs 9 to 10 hours of sleep. An adult needs an average of 7 to 8 hours a night. There are some people who need only 3 hours of sleep. Others need 10 hours of sleep. After the age of 50, the average sleep time goes down to 6.5 hours a night. We need less sleep as we get older. Most people have some nights when they cannot sleep. About one in three Americans has a problem with sleep. Many of these people cannot fall asleep or stay asleep. The name of this problem is insomnia. The word insomnia means "no sleep." Some people say, "I didn't sleep all night." They may sleep lightly and wake up several times. In the morning, they only remember the times they were awake, so they think they were awake all night. This is not a new problem. Many famous people in history had insomnia. Some of these people had special ideas to make them sleep. Benjamin Franklin, the famous statesman and inventor, had four beds. He moved from one to the other to fall asleep. King Louis XIV of France had 413 beds and hoped to fall asleep in one of them. Mark Twain, the famous American writer, had a different way. He lay on his side across the end of the bed!

Traveling in the Future

These days, if you want to travel from New York to Beijing, the flight takes about 16 hours. You also have to wait at the airport, and sometimes you have to transfer onto a different airplane. If you add all of that extra time, the trip takes at least 20 hours. But in the future, the trip from New York to Beijing might only take two hours.

Right now, a private company is developing something called ET3. ET3 stands for “evacuated tube transport technology”. Here is how it works. A tube goes all the way from New York to Beijing. The tube is only a few meters wide. Capsules move through the tube. Six people can sit in one capsule. The capsules use electricity instead of gasoline. For international travel, the capsules can travel at about 6,500 kilometers per hour. That is much faster than airplane — most modern airplanes usually only fly at about 800 kilometers per hour.

So how is this possible? How can these capsules travel so fast? The answer is that there is no air inside the tube. When airplanes fly, they have to move through the air. The air slows the airplanes down. Because there is no air in the ET3 tubes, the capsules are able to move at a very high speed. Besides, the capsules are quite light. They only weigh 183 kilograms.

There are other advantages to ET3. Because it uses electricity, it is quite clean. In addition, it is much quieter than airplanes and cars. Finally, ET3 tubes and capsules don't require very much building material.

Of course, ET3 doesn't exist yet. The technology is still being developed. Developers still have to solve a lot of problems. The biggest problem is that right now, ET3 would be far too expensive. In order to make ET3 cheaper, we will need much better technology.

It is exciting to think of how ET3 will change travel in the future. Maybe someday, you will be able to have lunch in New York and dinner in Beijing.

31. Which of the following is NOT true about travelling at present?

A. Modern planes fly at about 800 kilometers per hour.

B. We use mostly gasoline for transportation.

C. Flights make little noise thanks to modern technology.

D. Traveling takes place in the air.

32. Why is ET3 clean?

A. It is made of a clean kind of material.

B. It uses a cleaner kind of gasoline.

C. It doesn't use gasoline or electricity.

D. It uses electricity.

33. The word “works” in paragraph 2 is closest in meaning to _____.

34. All of the following are factors that make ET3 travel fast EXCEPT that _____.

A. there is no air inside the tube

B. the capsule is quite light

C. building material was discovered by accident

D. there is nearly no friction during the trip

35. What can be inferred from the passage?

A. There is still a lot to do before putting ET3 into operation.

B. All flights have to transfer at different cities.

C. ET3 will be used domestically.

D. Electricity used as a source of energy makes a capsule much quieter.

Our local environment is the world right around us - the air we breathe, the water we drink, the parks we play in, and the streets we walk on. Taking care of it is essential for our well-being and the health of the planet.

One simple way to help is by keeping our neighborhoods clean. We can do this by not throwing trash on the ground and using trash cans. Picking up litter when we see it is a small act that makes a big difference. Cleaner streets also mean cleaner air because there's less dust and pollution.

We can also save energy to help our local environment. Turning off lights when we leave a room and using less water when we take showers or brush our teeth can lower our energy use. When we use less energy, we reduce the pollution that harms our air and environment.

Our local parks and green spaces are essential for our well-being. We should enjoy these places and take care of them. Picking up after ourselves, not damaging plants, and not leaving trash behind are simple ways to keep these areas beautiful.

Preserving local wildlife is another part of taking care of our environment. We can do this by not disturbing animals' homes and being kind to the creatures we share our space with.

Lastly, getting involved in community projects like clean-up events or tree planting can bring people together to make our local environment even better. When we work together, we create a stronger, healthier, and happier place to call home.

Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the questions.

Along with jogging and swimming, cycling is one of the best all-round forms of exercise. It can help to increase your strength and energy, giving you more efficient muscles and a stronger heart. But increasing your strength is not the only advantage of cycling. Because you're not carrying the weight of your body on your feet, it's a good form of exercise for people with painful feet or backs. However, with all forms of exercise it's important to start slowly and build up gently. Doing too much too quickly can damage muscles that aren't used to working. If you have any doubts about taking up cycling for health reasons, talk to your doctor and ask for his/her advice.

Ideally you should be cycling at least two or three times a week. For the exercise to be doing you good, you should get a little out of breath. Don't worry that if you begin to lose your breath, it could be dangerous and there must be something wrong with your heart. This is simply not true; shortness of breath shows that the exercise is having the right effect. However, if you find you are in pain then you should stop and take a rest.

36. What is the passage mainly about?
