Mang Den Ecotourism Area is located in Mang Den Ward, Quang Ngai Province, Vietnam. It has great potential for developing farm tourism because of its cool climate all year round, beautiful scenery, and peaceful atmosphere. It is famous for its pine forests and waterfalls. In recent years, more tourists have visited this area to enjoy nature and experience rural life. Therefore, farm tourism has become an important part in tourism development in Mang Den. Visitors can join many interesting activities on the farms. They can visit coffee plantations, vegetable gardens and flower farms. Tourists can also try farming activities such as planting vegetables, harvesting fruits, or feeding animals. These experiences help people relax and escape from the stress of city life. Farm tourism also brings economic benefits to the local residents. It creates more jobs and helps the farmers increase their income. As more tourists come to Mang Den, the area will become more popular and attract more investment in tourism services. Developing farm tourism in Mang Den is a good way to support the economy in the area, protect nature, and introduce its beauty to more people.

Section II

Write a paragraph 100 - 120 words about the following topic:
"What should teenagers do to make the living environment in their area better?"

Bài mẫu:

Teenagers can do many things to make the living environment in their area better. First, they should keep their surroundings clean by putting rubbish in the right bins and not throwing litter on the streets. Second, they can join clean-up activities at school or in their neighbourhood. This helps make public places cleaner and more beautiful. In addition, teenagers should plant more trees and take care of flowers because trees give us fresh air and shade. They should also save electricity and water at home to protect natural resources. Finally, they can encourage their friends and family members to live in an environmentally friendly way. If teenagers work together, their area will become greener and cleaner.
